

More vocal prelate to lead bishops starting today

By Christian F. Esguerra

THE CATHOLIC BISHOPS' CONFERENCE OF THE Philippines (CBCP), heavily criticized by some sectors for its recent political stunts, will have a new and more vocal leader beginning today. Bishops Archbishop Leopoldo Capalla will take over the reins from Archbishop Angel Lagdameo of Zamboanga, during a meeting of the joint permanent council of the CBCP convened in Intramuros City Hall.

A CBCP media advisory announcing that there would be no formal answer questions. While Lagdameo was supposed to begin his new year term on Dec. 1 under the CBCP bylaws, Capalla said reporters for now stepping down earlier as he would be traveling to Australia and would be tied down afterwards in a conference-conference in Mindanao.

Capalla, 71, will be taking a seemingly long-term CBCP under the law existing in no July 10 pastoral statement to join the church for President Macapagal-Arroyo to step down in the wake of electoral fraud charges against her.

In this regard, much is expected from his movement, who had remained the failed impeachment of his Arroyo and the support of a prayer rally led by archbishops.

Much of the criticism against the CBCP comes of which has come from members of the clergy members around Capalla's last such as Manila, partly blamed on his supposed closeness to the President.

Under Capalla's leadership, one priest complained that the country's 100 bishops members will be leading for someone to speak on matters as greatly needing their guidance and protection.

Capalla supporters believe the observation was an unfair perception of the prelate's closeness — but never speaking — attitude.

"I did my best," the bishop told reporters yesterday. "I thought I served the Church. I served the bishops. I don't know how they will rate me, it's not important to me how they will react to me."

Capalla also sought to correct the impression that he was an Arroyo lackey saying that he had also helped the Aquino, Ramos and Estrada administrations.

"It's only now that they think that I'm for Arroyo," he said.

Critics feel Capalla failed to rise to the occasion, offering vague guidance to members the discussed tactics, especially when the country was beset with political scandals.

"That term has been challenged to address political issues," Capalla said. "But it is not the role of the bishops to respond to purely political issues. They have a moral dimension, that's why we were challenged to respond."

Capalla actually had another two-year term by CBCP tradition, but months before the CBCP assembly last July he was fellow bishops a letter announcing his intention to step down to step down at the end of his first term. He said he wanted to focus on his job at the Archdiocese of Cebu.

During the plenary, bishops elected Manila Archbishop Gaudencio Rosales who kept his position after the third round of balloting.

The job then went to Lagdameo who, as the outgoing CBCP vice president, was the same one before for Capalla's successor.

While a CBCP president's term is for one year, an incumbent has the option of stepping up in a second term, in which case, with the bishops voting only on the tally.

DROP THAT GUN, FATHER!

Church wants to strip chaplains of ranks, perks

By Christian V. Siguera

'GIVE THAT GUN, FATHER!'

It's not exactly tough being a chaplain in the police or military service... except a competitive monthly salary, a service benefits, a handsome uniform and some promotions.

But if a new proposal by some chaplains' associations is to be approved by Rome, all those perks would be lost in Catholic priests serving in the Philippine National Police and the Armed Forces of the Philippines.

Deacon Archbishop Innocenzo Capella, now joint president of the Catholic Bishops' Conference of the Philippines (CBCP), said he was awaiting an official letter from Bishop Leopoldo Triaudela of the Military Bishops' Conference.

"It would be putting the chaplains in just for convenience (for some priests)," Capella told reporters, asking the associations of not a few chaplains in the AFP and AFP-AR to state that the value of ministry work is not in some perks.

Capella and Triaudela had suggested that priests work in chaplaincy and military for limited to the spiritual guidance of the troops in uniform, said, in truth, chaplains should be the same as priests.

The matter will be tackled during the joint assembly of the outgoing and incoming CBCP.

permanently available assistance at the various sectors' headquarters in Zamboanga, Manila.

When Archbishop Innocenzo Capella was the Military Bishop, Capella said, he consulted with the priests' associations in the AFP and AFP-AR. Chaplains receive salaries and other perks that go with being a lay religious. Capella acknowledged that all those had given no advantage for many priests who applied to be chaplains.

There are at least 40 chaplains in the AFP.

In the police force, chaplains are overtly sought after and are omitted by the annual Bureau proficiency test. Their service benefits in the 5-year plan, the same go is used to replace policemen.

In a previous interview with the Inquirer, St. Ray Domercq, head of the AFP Chaplain Service, said he received a monthly salary corresponding to his rank as a representative for the AFP.

When he was once an officer in the AFP, Domercq said he was under the AFP's discipline, and he was under the AFP's discipline.

Capella said the proposal by Triaudela and other chaplains would be referred by the CBCP submitted to the Apostolic Nuncio in the Philippines Archbishop Innocenzo Triaudela, before being delivered to the Vatican for approval.

60 policemen attend US-sponsored seminar on int'l human trafficking

By Luigi A. del Puerto

SOME 60 POLICE OFFICERS, SECURITY OF TWO weeks, yesterday began a two-day training seminar on the latest and nature of human trafficking.

The seminar, held at the police national headquarters in Camp Crame, is sponsored by USAID and the United States Embassy in Manila.

It is designed to familiarize the police officers with the latest and nature of human trafficking.

The training focuses on the "voluntary and coercion" involved in trafficking cases against children, a police spokesman said.

Philippine National Police chief Director

General Arsenio Lacuna said that because of the distinctive nature of the case, human traffickers have to be global syndicates are still active in the country.

The police has acknowledged the gravity of the problem and has joined hands with government and private stakeholders to combat the problem, according to Lacuna.

The AFP along with the departments of Justice, Foreign Affairs and Social Welfare, is a member of an inter-agency coordination mechanism to combat the problem.

The United Nations Protocol to Prevent, Suppress and Punish Trafficking in Persons, signed upon in 2000, calls on nations to institute measures for the physical, psychological and social recovery of trafficking victims.

India, Pakistan open border to ease quake aid

PAKISTAN Brig. Fiaz Bhatti (left) hands a flower to an Indian counterpart, Lt. R. Bhatnagar, during the 11-hour border opening ceremony.

CONTINUING CONTROVERSY—INDIAN and PAKISTAN opened their borders to disaster relief on Monday, setting hopes of a lasting understanding of their respective decisions and dispute over the territory.

Army commanders and government officials from the two sides met at the town of Chitral (LAC), the de facto border that has divided the Himalayan region since the late 1940s, and shook hands before declaring the crossing point open.

Indian and Pakistani governments began unloading the trucks and handing the supplies to each other under Pakistani rules, the first time ever that a shipment of relief had crossed the heavily militarized frontier.

"This is a huge day in the history of both Kashmir and the subcontinent," Indian Minister of Defense, the deputy commander of Pakistani Kashmir who represented the Pakistani side, said.

"It has given us all a new way of looking at the border," Indian officials said. They were waiting 25 truckloads of relief to the Pakistani side—most by the Gov. 14 trucks, which killed more than 14,000 people, including women, children, and the elderly.

While both sides had been talking about the LAC as the crossing—there was no Pakistani side and Chitral was the border town—and both sides had had no exchange.

A sign on the Indian side said, "We have not opened the LAC, we have opened borders."

Indian officials were not allowed to cross the frontier as originally hoped when Indian President Shree Mohandas had proposed the border opening last month, since both of their names have not been changed.

But U.S. State, divisional commissioners for the Jammu division of Indian Kashmir, and after shaking hands with Pakistani forces, at the ceremony that officials may be able to cross by Nov. 14.

"It's definitely a very historic and very important moment," he said.

Several hundred villages in the Pakistani side lived up about 200 yards away from the crossing point, and showed locally when they saw the first relief goods being exchanged.

At least two more crossing points along the frontier are due to open within the next week.

Indian and Pakistani troops have had to clear minefields around the site, a legacy from the decades of bordering in Kashmir.

They have set up symbolic checkpoints on either side as well as two large tents as an emergency, while the Indian army has established a surgery unit and emergency hospital nearby.

Officials on both sides including Mohandas have said it could have been divided beyond the bordering borders to take victims.

Regarding Tahir Nage, the officers in charge of the Pakistani side, suggested that the border point could become a long-term forum, allowing families divided by the LAC for nearly six decades to meet near of each other.

When a war erupts you will find a big incident starting up here. It's quite possible," Nage said. "We are doing things with an element of permanence in them."

Something never happens people in both countries is one of the key conditions building measures agreed by India and Pakistan when they launched this new meeting process in January 1991.

In fact, the two sides allowed the official opening of the LAC by meeting through the border to create families in the Indian and Pakistani zones.

Shifting majority Kashmir has been split between the two countries since its independence from Britain in 1947, creating two of their most bitter rivals and creating the core dispute between the nuclear-armed neighbors. 40P

Consumers in provinces seen paying Manila power

By Vincent Carabias
PCH Northern Luzon Bureau

DAVAO CITY—THE GOVERNMENT failed to explain why over 10 million consumers from the provinces will end up subsidizing the power consumption of Metro Manila, despite insistence from the finance department that respondents would add tax on power and fuel will be mitigated, the Association of Philippine Electric Cooperatives (Apec) said here.

Shell game

Like Samuel Gourd, Apec secretary general, said Wednesday he playing "a shell game" because they have not revealed the fact that local cooperatives are still required to pay local franchise fees.

Merely backed by a 30 percent VIG, all 119 electric cooperatives are therefore expected to further increase future power rates by another 2 percent, unlike the Manila Electric Co. (Meralco).

Cashier

The VIG law required Meralco to ration franchise fees, allowing it to increase power rates by only 8 percent. David said the Department of Finance described this as the worst source of the electricity that would help subsidize the in-part of Meralco on power in its own cities.

But while the VIG law aimed at the 2001 Electric Power Industry Reform Act (EPIRA), it did not exempt the Local Government Code, he said.

Local autonomy laws gave local governments the right to impose local franchise fees.

"This is a case of the weak power government subsidizing the Meralco collection of government... to its million read-month pay-households will end up percentage rates, and to end result, paying a higher VIG on power than for U.S. island Metro Manila residents," Gourd said.

US TROOPS OUT of MINDANAO & in the PHILIPPINES NO!

A MEMBER of the militant group Abu Sayyaf poses a protest rally in Davao City to demand the withdrawal of American troops in reaction to the rape of a civilian female student by US soldiers.

Mayor says US troops in rape made fish meal

DAVAO CITY—THE CITY'S MAYOR, known as talk tough, promises that he would have made fish meal out of the five American soldiers accused of raping a college student in a rape in a small town in Davao.

"It is happened here, I will deliver these (American soldiers) to the Davao Gulf and let the fish to feast on them. Another lesson for the fish then," Mayor Rodrigo Duterte said during his weekly program on Sunday.

Known for his sharp tongue, Duterte called the rapists Idiots.

And as if to show a stern warning, Duterte said, "I will arrest every American soldier accused of raping a girl, and asking if he is a Filipino... they should behave properly."

But he was also quick to appeal to the public not to let the case end on the rape and rape in Davao.

Anti-war games

Duterte said the rape in Davao was one of the reasons he has been increasingly wary about allowing American and Filipino soldiers conduct military exercises here.

He said the government and its agreement with the US government should take all the blame for the rape.

"The government has to be blamed... for allowing Americans to go here and rape our women," Duterte said, adding that was the last time to continue to sign the military agreement (VMA) between the Philippines and US government.

"What is surprising about the holding of joint military exercises is that we don't really expect a large-scale conflict... but thanks to the equipment of the Americans," he argued said.

Caravans

"What we are worried about is warships and what we need on water bodies... our coast is unguarded and defenseless," he added.

He also said he compared to their Filipino counterparts, American soldiers are so well armed and skilled. He said Filipino soldiers are 10 times more than the Americans "who are trained to die."

He also mentioned what he called the world history of American soldiers in Asia.

"The American presence at least 40,000 years while they were in Asia for many years, including rape and other crimes... this is the reason why I don't want the holding of the military exercises in Davao," he said.

The alleged rape was also condemned by the anti-war peacekeepers in Davao.

"We challenge the Philippine government and the visiting forces' agreement to ensure to make the appropriate decision on this matter, rather than be prejudiced by the representatives and not necessarily to the US soldiers who are property of rape," said Atanilo Al Calan, national secretary of Davao Bagongbayan.

However, they could not help but be accused by the United States military that some soldiers in Mindanao refuse to go on an upcoming exercise of US soldiers on human rights and including soldiers together with the Armed Forces of the Philippines.

He said the US troops would not continue. He will always be sincere in our commitment should the government fail to address the call for prosecution of the US soldiers (in the rape case)," he said.

In 2003, the US government was also accused in withdrawing over an American soldier who was accused of shooting a 16-year-old during the US-OP counter operations in Davao.

To clarify the shooting, the Philippine government issued a report and denied the victim, Marjorie Weir, being raped, and accused him of being an Abu Sayyaf member. Duterte said, "Arroyo, M. Pineda and Ingrey Marwin, FBI-Mindanao Bureau."

Fun jam: FrancisM & Maxene

By Maribel K. Cruz

FRANCISMAGALLO
(born Jan. 29, 1974)
Francis, Maxene, her boyfriend.

For the singer-TV host and her woman, it's all about "love it, lose it, share it" while her man, this, and I may be inquiescent."

Francis told Maxene Francis loves her husband, I tell her she should take responsibility for all her actions and consistent on things that are important. I don't have problems with her doing it."

Maxene is a college sophomore in Theater Arts at the University of Manila. She shares a room and went with siblings, Francis and Maxene, to their school.

"I'm very proud of the way my parents raised me," Maxene said,
"I take my parents' siblings, her sister, and my family."

Francis said, "This new show that Maxene and I are having great fun of, it's a good opportunity to bond. We're doing work-outs and living along the whole family."

Francis and Maxene are hosts of QTV 11's "Love Jam," a talent search featuring 12 families that will compete for a P1 million top prize. It is produced by 68 (Love) Entertainment, Unlimited, Inc., and produced Nov. 12 at 7 p.m.

Francis Entertainment had a fun time with Francis and Max-ene during the shoot.

FrancisM

Do you think Maxene is old enough to accept suitors?

"No and I have a strict style of pursuing. He must like me to be independent at an early age. My guide is the woman's heart. Maxene is already independent in terms of her business, her life, and her family."

Would you look kindly on a man with tattoos?

"There's this saying, 'Don't judge a book by its cover.' It is the same as, 'Don't judge a man by his tattoo.'"

How many suitors do you have?

"More than 30. The first one I was with was a short, fat, ugly, and was in Chicago in 1996. The last one was the first one and then the Philippine Rep. was born, born in 2000."

Should you allow your kids to smoke tobacco?

"When they were 16, they are in the situation they want. I think only if I see that they are going to smoke. My son and son-in-law are not smoking."

Jericho says 'Panday' is 'breathtaking'

PHILIPPINE TV'S
MOST AWARDED

beginning in summer
when ABS-CBN revived "Panday" to its
"Premiere" slot.
Next,

Tonight they will air part 3 of the "making of" special on "Panday: The Big Bang" by Jericho.

"The new part special which start premiering today
shows behind the scenes of this special teleproduction."

Je-
richo's special looks at all the cast in this latest reversion of the legendary story line made famous by Carlo J. Caparas in Panday.
Caparas is presented to make Panday more history through a series of flashback films covering the late Francisco Pan de Agar.

"This whole project is breathtaking," ex-claims Jericho's director, who plays Donato, a bustling lawyer who inherits the island and most of the Panday series of material.
"I've wanted to play this role for a long time, and the project, as produced by ABS-CBN, is definitely without compromise."

Je-
richo's endorsement a rapid turning engine which included weeks and other mental arts, hand-to-hand, sword fighting, and weight training. Caparas says, "The search for the special. The happy to say that he is a worthy successor to PFA, because while PFA made the role legendary in current generations, Jericho is part of a new breed that can reach out to new audiences. I know that if PFA were around to see the show, and Jericho's performance as the new Panday, he'd give a thumbs-up.
Maybe even a double thumbs up."

Je-
richo's Panday record on the "breathtaking" special project in the ratings game.

Speaking of "Panday" heard from an insider that Jericho's leading lady, Francis Magallon, is not as well liked in the network because of some attitude problems. My source says, "She gets into this don't-touch-me-if-I-am-not-touched. Maybe she needs to have a heart-to-heart talk with her 'Kapamilyo,' but her lowest form is a change of heart."

Rivermaya and the SEA

RIVERMAYA, dubbed "The Bangs of Bayan," launches a tribute to Filipino athletes participating in the SEA Games 2005. The Philippines will be the host country for the biennial sports event from Nov. 27-Dec. 3.

Titled "Bayan," the latest addition from the band generated previously to various national events. "We don't compete, we fight and constantly to be the best," said Rivermaya from the new album. "These are qualities that Filipino athletes have in sports. This song was not only written for them, it was inspired by them."

Rivermaya is set to perform a glowing concert to open the games at the Quezon Composed. They will be featured in the finale of a two-hour musical extravaganza featuring music from all 11 participating Southeast Asian countries—Brunei Darussalam, Cambodia, Indonesia, Laos, Malaysia, Myanmar, Philippines, Singapore, Thailand, Timor-Leste and Vietnam. The show will be broadcast live across Asia. Let's bring our Bayan crowd that our athletes will all do a Panguito and make playoff all the medals.

SEA of problems!

STILL on the SEA games, a production staff member insists that there are still no definite groups to handle the coverage of each event.
The coverage will be split among (December 3, 11 and 14), he says. "Everything is in disruption." To finish the games start in a new workshop. Channel 5 wants more events but they don't have enough technical facilities. Hope that the network that makes questions are pouring in to the games start in a new work. "Everything they will be able to work but the lack of the SEA games start in a new work."

Forex reserves slip to $18.09B in Oct.

But still above '05 target

By David C. Dundas

THE COUNTRY'S gross international reserves (GIR) dipped to $18.09 billion in end-October from an all-time high of $18.54 billion a month due to the servicing of foreign obligations.

Banko Sentral ng Pilipinas Governor Benjamin Diokno said a reported possibility that while the was 3.5 percent lower than the end-September level, the current reserves hold up still exceeded the end-2003 target of $17 billion.

"As reported, the decline in the GIR level was attributable mainly to the servicing of outstanding foreign exchange obligations of the national government and the Bangko Sentral," Diokno said. "The outflow, however, was partly offset by the Bangko Sentral's foreign exchange operations and income from reserve assets abroad."

The GIR, consisting of the BSP's gross foreign currency holdings, gold reserves, special drawing rights from institutional investors and foreign investments, is an indicator of the country's ability to service its foreign obligations and debt servicing.

The GIR also dips due to foreign reserves to supply dollars to the open foreign exchange market whenever there is a need to quell speculative attacks against the peso. A large GIR build up thus provides a psychological support for the peso by improving the BSP's stance in the foreign exchange market.

"The end-October GIR level was adequate to cover about four months of imports of goods and payments of services and income," Diokno said.

The level was also equivalent to three times the country's short-term debt based on original maturity and 3.8 times based on residual maturity to loan.

91-DAY RATE AT 5.69% Treasury bill rates decline

By Nicholas B. Reyes

TREASURY BILL RATES DROPPED across all maturities yesterday, as the lingering high liquidity around banks continued with fresh market operations brought by the implementation of the new VAT law.

The 91-day bill rate fell 14.5 basis points to 5.69 percent. The three-month bill instrument was more than three times as much, showing strong market support.

Earlier the 91-day bill reached ₱102 billion compared with the government's offering of only ₱1 billion. The Treasury's auction committee accepted ₱1 billion worth of bids.

"The decline was expected because of the developments on the fiscal side, punctuated by the implementation of the new VAT law last Nov. 1," National Treasury Center-Cebu said in a briefing after the auction.

The 182-day bill fetched a rate of 7.825 percent, or 7.4 basis points lower than the previous auction. The six-month government securities auctioned the same number of bids, with interest reaching ₱9.14 billion compared with the previous auction's offering of only ₱1.5 billion. The Treasury accepted its entire borrowing schedule for the six-month bill of ₱1.5 billion.

The rate for the 364-day bill declined by 1.2 basis points to 8.93 percent. Treasuries for the one-year bills reached ₱5.9 billion, or almost three times higher than the ₱2 billion offering of the government.

Treasury's auction was the first since the expired SOG law was implemented last November following five months of suspension by the Department of Finance. Officials said both the international and domestic capital markets were reacting to the implementation of the law, which is seen to largely solve the government's lingering bond problems.

The law basically expanded the coverage of the tax to include oil and electricity among others, and raise the VAT rate from 10 to 12 per-

BIR seen achieving October collection target

By Michelle K. Rane

THE BUREAU OF INTERNAL REVENUE, led by Deputy Commissioner for Tax Collection, said it is on track to meet its October collection target of P40.94 billion for October, as the agency's large taxpayer service (LTS) unit already exceeded its tax collection goal.

"If the LTS performs well, there is a 50 percent chance that the entire BIR will meet its collection target. Since the LTS already exceeded its goal, there is a better chance that the BIR will exceed its goal for October," said Deputy Commissioner for Tax Collection, Dr. Juanito S. Alcala, who leads the LTS, LTS, which includes more than 100,000 taxpayers, as well as the country's largest corporations, as more than 100 provinces of the BIR regional offices.

Alcala said the LTS was looking to

LTO collects P8.1B in 9 mos

THE LTO registered 4.3 million vehicles in the first nine months this year against 4.07 million a year ago.

By Christine S. Bello

THE LAND TRANSPORTATION Office collected P8.1 billion in the first nine months of the year, up 7.43 percent from P7.55 billion a year ago.

LTO chief Aurelio Lomera said the collection puts the agency on track to meeting its revenue target for the year of P9.1 billion.

Lomera, however, said the increase in the agency's collection this year was slower than the 19 percent recorded the previous year because 2004 was the last year of the implementation of the excise tax law.

The road users tax on the five-year vehicle license fee was replaced by a 10 percent excise tax on the sale of new vehicles.

The excise tax was collected by the LTO but it was returned to an account managed by a group of the road fund.

The road fund was established by the LTO but it was returned to an account managed by a group of the road fund.

The fund, estimated at about P5 billion, was supposed to be used for the maintenance of national and provincial roads, national and provincial roads, national and provincial roads.

"Any increase in the fund is attributed to the increase in vehicle sales and our efficiency in collection," Lomera said in an interview.

LTO is in charge of licensing, inspection and registering vehicles and is one of the government's largest revenue collectors.

largest revenue collectors.

The LTO collected 4.3 million vehicles in the first nine months this year against 4.07 million a year ago.

The agency issued 2.55 million licenses and permits in the first nine months, up 5 percent against 2.42 million in the same period last year.

Previously, license and permit issuance went up 10.2 percent.

Lomera also pointed out that last year, the LTO sold nearly 1 million used cars.

The continuing sale of plates should generate about P1 billion for the government in this year.

But all the LTO revenue this year came from operations that is still relatively low.

In the first nine months, the agency handled 567,400 cases of applications, up 17.79 percent against 482,000 a year ago.

Lomera added that due to a increase in make-over cases of vehicles, the LTO handled more than 170,000 cases of vehicle plates.

The government has a lot to do to reduce the impact of increasing price increases, primarily due to the oil price hike.

Lomera said the LTO had not raised its fees and charges for the last 19 years.

top of a wide range and don't lose your foot.

To stretch the plantar fascia, sit down and extend one leg in front of you. Place a ball or towel around your toes and pull them toward you. Hold the stretch for 30-60 seconds. Do this a few times a day. If you already have plantar fasciitis, do this every hour throughout the day until the fascia loosens.

Ball

The symptoms are a burning or stinging feeling in the ball of the foot. It is usually reported in women who are wearing high heels. Women report that it is worse when they stand for long periods of time, especially when they are wearing high heels, or when they are walking on hard surfaces.

Some women choose small shoes because they think big feet are awkward as they are so small. But shoes that are too small can cause problems. The shoes should be able to wiggle the toes and the feet should be able to move.

Orthotics

People with associated foot problems should consult an orthopedic doctor for the right kind of orthotics. There are three basic types—over-the-counter, custom-made, and prescription. If you find over-the-counter shoes, support for the arch and cushioning provide cushioning and support.

People with severe leg fatigue usually need a lift in the arches. Orthotics, just will develop in the foot of the longer leg. People with pronated feet need orthotics or orthotics that will correct the inward rolling of the foot.

A simple way to check if you are at risk for foot problems is to wear a shoe with a wide sole and a wide arch. If the shoe feels like a shoe, it is a flat. If only part of the foot, you have high arches.

High heels

Women with a short stature are likely to give up their high heels. But, if you are a woman, you should know that high heels are not good for your feet. They can cause problems, including injury, pain, and even death.
